“ I am one of many, many employees at Heraeus who thought so highly of Scott Sink. He was the best, very kind and thoughtful, and hardworking as well. I had prayed he would win this fight. Scott, you are missed, by me and many, many others. A true inspiration. Rest In Peace, my friend.

“ Scott and I worked together at Heraeus and shared a similar story. He was always upbeat and willing to help. He was a great trainer and helped develop a lot of the training procedure's still used. He and I shared interests in music and reading. We had many conversations about work, life and family. He was a very good man and will be missed.

“ I met Scott in the fall of 1974 when he moved into our neighborhood, we were both 13. Before long we were hanging out all the time and I learned Scott was the best friend anyone could have. He was down to earth, funny. loyal and was always ready for fun. We carried our friendship through decades and hundreds of miles. I will miss Scott tremendously but the memories we made will last forever. I was blessed to have Scott for a friend. May Scott rest in peace.

“ I first met Scott in the summer of 1962. He was a toddler living in Winston Salem, NC. He was soon to be the middle child between two vibrant sisters. He was blessed to grow up where family was cherished and with the bonus of adoring grandparents. It is easy to know why family was so important to him. He fell for Tina, the love of his life, and together they created such a beautiful, loving family. It is our sweet, sweet memories of him that overshadow our pain of missing him. We were blessed beyond measure to have had him in our lives and grateful to know that he had claimed the promise of Heaven.

We are so sorry to hear of your family's loss.
Gary and I lived next to Sherri and Ted in Steeplechase, and we met you several times when the kids were younger. Sherri spoke often of your family, and I know how much she loves all of you. “ Man I loved coaching with this guy. My middle daughter and his oldest daughter often played on the same team. Scott was a master of the game of softball and such a great teacher of the sport. His kind heart and genuine love for kids was contagious. What an awesome dad. He loved to laugh, loved the beach, and loved loved loved the game of softball. Scott you will be missed. May your kids carry your legacy and love of life throughout theirs. We will catch up later. Save me a spot coaching with ya in that great game in Heaven. Until then, Rest In Peace.
