“ Stacey, David, and Charlee were our next door neighbors in Grayson. They came to Sean, and Samantha's birthday parties every year until we moved away. They are a big part of our fond family memories. Stacey worked with me at Grayson elementary and when there was an opening at Maxwell I told her to apply and she did. She became a member of the Maxwell family and we were lucky to work together for the past 15 years. Charlee was always a fixture at Maxwell. She volunteered in my Pre-K classroom and worked with Ronnie Noa our speech pathologist. I have watched her blossom into a beautiful young lady and caring and loving speech pathologist. Charlee has always been like a second daughter to me and I want her to know that I will be here for her if she every needs anything. David, I am so sorry for your loss. Stacey touched many lives and I am still in shock of her passing. We are thinking of you and sending our love. Hugs and Kisses from the Floyd family- Gary, Tricia, Sean, and Samantha

“ We’ve known the Tyler’s since our son met Charlee many years ago in school. We’d bump into them at Kroger or Walmart and sometimes at Grayson Days and of course football games. Always had a laugh, always a good time. I’m so sorry David and Charlee, I can feel what you’re going through. I hope we will bump into each other soon.

Sincerely,
Chip Stephenson

“ David, Charlee, and Kellie,

I am totally devastated to learn this news. Stacey was a rare and precious person. We first met when I was Stacey's high school English teacher. She was my assistant for 2 years. Her typing skills were exceptional, and she won awards in high school for that expertise. Always responsible and joyful, Stacey possessed integrity above reproach. She was gentle and incredibly kind, exhibiting a quiet charm. I loved Stacey, and later her family became my friends. We had meals together at our houses. After Stacey and David graduated, I introduced them. A few days after their first blind date, Stacey invited my husband and me to her parents' house. There, Stacey and David announced their engagement. It had been love at first sight. Though speechless, Andy, Stacey's dad, stayed composed. That long engagement led to a beautiful marriage and a lovely daughter. Introducing those two may have been the best action I ever took. My husband and I were honored to be in their wedding. Though life accelerated and took us in different directions, I valued our exchange of cards, birthday greetings, and occasional phone calls. Stacey was a cherished friend. My heart will forever be intertwined with hers. The world is darker without her bright light.
