“ To Rev Capell and the good folks of Kings Grove Baptist Church, Hendersonville, NC: What a warm, welcoming church! You all shared so much of yourselves for Steve's memorial. Your own talented singers, Taylor Lanning & Payton Hossley, shared their angelic voices so beautifully, and Sindy Dockery's heartfelt singing of 'Precious Lord' moved me to tears. And that huge hot buffet prepared by the ladies of your church was so good! Steve would have loved every single dish, every pie, every cake! Beautiful music, delicious home-cooked food shared so generously with such love & compassion will surely help heal the broken heart of his wife Sara T, and all of Steve's family and friends gathered there in your lovely church in honor of Steve. Thank you. Thank you all.

“ When we were young & healthy, Steve, Sara T., my husband Darrell (R.I.P.) and I spent many happy hours sitting 'round a kitchen table sharing good food, great music, tall tales & fishing stories over many cups of coffee (and other refreshments!) that lasted long into the night. An evening with the Bloomfield's was never dull! An avaricious reader, Steve was curious about anything & everything and could talk about anything & everything (and often did!), so no topic was off the table. He had a keen eye, sharp judgement, and liked to figure things out for himself; an old-fashioned truth-seeker. (Don't you know how much he would love to share true stores of Heaven with us?!) Steve loved a good prank; a good story; the sea; fishing; and Sara T. -- who is surely blessed to have that loquacious frisky Irishman, her beloved, as her Chief Guardian Angel now. God Bless Her. And God Bless Steve (who is no doubt entertaining Him right now with a good fishing story!).
