“ We grew up together loving animals, wooded yards, farms and Friendship Church and Cemetery Food where we shared as family singing and kids chased lizards thru the 1902 cemetery lot finding old relatives wondering what they were about but never knew. We laughed, we played and valued family and noticed old farm houses like the Gables, Milams, Camps. We were chasing their chilckens, cows and being kicked by angus cattle in the pasture and barns.. Everything was an adventure for the city kids. we got in trouble with a neighor but were herding cattle with machine guns we got for Christmas. we went across rivers on the farms because they were so large .... until a man shot off his rifle and said we had Strayed over into the wrong farm and he said to leave his cattle alone"....o gee did we get in trouble not knowing farm rules. loved gathering eggs, picking ears of corn, canning and freezing vegetables.. Charlie always had a new vehicle to see and Susan had a heart for those needing help. After awhile there was no connections left. I wish all well today but just heard about it today. I am unable to come due to being a cancer patient myself so celebrate her well. I recently found some pictures my Dad had of the family so will take them to Rachel who I am sure will bring them to you. Counsin Marcia McWhorter (daughter of Marie Camp Drake and Johnny Drake.

“ How can a heart be sad and yet happy at the same time is truly a mystery. Susan my friend of so recent, you were the sweetest spirit. I enjoyed our talks at the “Barn” where you and Mr. Joe embraced me, my daughter and granddaughter into a wonderful group. I am forever changed and will hold you always in my heart. Now you are perfect and in the presence of our loving savior. We will miss you .
