“ Sissy had a heart so big and a spirit so generous that she made the world a better place just by being in it.

Sissy was the kind of person who would drop everything to help someone in need. Her life was a beautiful example of what it means to be truly selfless. She was a caregiver not just by profession, but by nature. It was who she was at her core.

Whether it was a warm smile, a listening ear, or a helping hand, Sissy was always there when you needed her. She never expected anything in return; she simply gave because that's who she was.

Her love, her generosity, and her kindness will never be forgotten.

Rest in peace, Sissy. Thank you for showing us all how to take care of each other.
