“ This poem by Emily Dickinson says it all. Terry will surely be missed.

Dione and John O'Brien

*And if I go, while you're still here...
Know that I live on,
Vibrating to a different measure
Behind a thin veil you cannot see through.*

*You will not see me,
So you must have faith.
I wait for the time when we can soar
together again,
Both aware of each other.*

*Until then, live your life to the fullest
And when you need me,
Just whisper my name in your heart,
...I will be there.*

“ Terry loved his music, smoking his cigarette and looking out to his backyard known as his sanctuary.

I admired his love of nature and his ability to photograph wild animals of the wild. Good job, Terry!

Rest in Peace. You will be missed.
