What I remember is her kindness and smile. She was one of my first childhood friends. She reached out to the new kids in the neighborhood and made them feel welcome. We never forgot it. Her example then still influences us today. Special people leave a lasting legacy. She was one of the special ones. Though we lost touch over the years, I never forgot her...or her family.

“ Even though Tina was my sister-n-law we had a very special relationship. She was my buddy from the very beginning. Some of my best memories were the times we jumped on the kids trampoline late into the night and getting fussed at by everyone that was trying to sleep. Also the many Christmas eves that we spent together assembling toys and placing them all around the tree. We would laugh and tell stories until the sun came up and then could hardly keep our eyes open as the kids were opening their presents. I will always remember that beautiful smile and her loving heart. Tina was a very special person to me and I will miss her greatly. She is with her father again and I know that makes her happy. One day we will laugh together again. Until then she will missed.

Love you Tina! , BoBo
