“ Words cannot express the love I have felt over the last couple weeks/month from family and friends, and friends new and old that had known my Mom and Dad over the years. Each and every one of you holds a special place in my heart always! I don't know if Chris, Chuck and I could have done what we did without your support and love. Yesterday was tough saying goodbye to my last "parent". But I know I will see him again in a better place.

My dad was such a great father! He was fun, loving, caring, funny, intelligent, great provider, interesting, handsome, and probably a few more that escape my mind. I've learned a lot in the last couple years about the different "stages" of one's life. How gracefully getting old is one of those stages that you have to go through, and it doesn't make who you are. All the pain he was in, turned him into a different person. Funny how in death, all the great memories return about the person....did the same with my mom.

God Bless you all!!

I love you,

Julie

“ I'm sorry I wasn't able to attend the service today, but you have all been in my thoughts over the last few weeks, and especially this morning. In addition to our family vacations out to see Aunt Pat and Uncle Val in Oregon, I also stayed with them a couple of times at the "Boring" house for long weekends when I was in college in Tacoma. The coffee plant cutting that Val sent me home with one of those times lasted for almost 20 years! We never did harvest enough beans to make a cup of coffee but it was a fixture in my parent's dining room for many years :-)

Val also gave me some memorable advice when I was going through a difficult time about 12 years ago, and that advice proved to be very helpful.

I am so glad we all have so many good memories of Val (and Pat and Valerie and Greg) that will live on for many years to come!
Sending you lots and lots of love ❤️❤️❤️❤️❤️

“ Julie, Chuck and Chris,
Our sincere condolences on your loss of your Dad. You all and Val are in our prayers during this time of sadness. However, his earthly journey is over and he now joins his beloved Patricia, Gregory and Valerie.
Both Patricia and Val were inspirations for our family and always brought something new or challenging with them.
Our visit to their home in Boring, Oregon is a fond memory we shall never forget. You all are in our prayers as we now celebrate the gift of their lives.

“ So many fond memories growing up of summer vacations spent visiting Pat & Val in their beautiful Oregon home, and beach home, during the mid-80s. Spending time at their house and admiring their beautiful garden, enjoying their hot tub, and having lots of fun and laughs visiting the nearby sites, including the beach, and hunting down rare comics I was looking for at nearby shops, with their help. I also fondly remember them visiting me in 2000 (or 2001?) when I lived in Orlando, and enjoying our time together. Of course, I deeply appreciated them visiting Denver for my wedding to Mary in October 2003, during which time we also had an impromptu birthday/retirement party for my dad (Val's brother), and shared lots of wonderful memories, photos and laughs.

Another highlight was in 1985 at Holland Lake for our Herman family reunion, the site of a gorgeous lake, lodge, scenic vistas, and nearby hiking trail and waterfall. It was one of the only times I remember all of us (Grandma Herman, Pat & Val, Carol & Jim, Mom & Dad (aka Jeff & Sue), and all of my cousins being together in one place, sharing laughs and good times that summer.

In fact, that was the common denominator to all of our visits with Val & Pat--laughter. Lots of fun and laughs, and that's the way I will always remember our times together. God Bless Val, and may he be reunited in God's Kingdom with Aunt Pat as a new chapter begins.

With love and respect---The Colorado Hermans (Jeffrey, Mary, Sophia & Kate)

Hey, brother. Here's to all the fond memories and great times we shared. You grabbed a lot of checkered flags, hit a few speed bumps and had a fender bender or two along the way. But you and Pat blessed the clan with four fine kids on your tour here. Think about all the places you've been around the world and the country. You did a heckuva job and made friends everywhere - Montana, Oregon, Ohio, Georgia and probably a few places in between. And we've got folks all over scratching their heads about our paternal Montana roots - Two Dot and Big Timber. I love you and miss you. God bless you. Jeff
