“ Kaye, our hearts go out to all of you. Bill spoke often of his family and loved you so much. He was a very close friend of our family and will always hold a special place in our hearts. Four special attributes come to mind when thinking of him: honesty, fighter, genius, and faithful friend. His ideals, precise nature, and strong moral compass stayed true even when others pressured him to waiver. Always analyzing and searching for truth, Bill focused on causes he knew were right and worth fighting for. Working as his assistant in Corrections as he developed the pilot program for Standard Operating Procedures was an invaluable experience. His knowledge of legal matters was astonishing! On a spiritual level, Bill often talked of our Lord Jesus Christ, faith, and his own purpose in life. He wanted to help his fellow man, and the battles he took on rescued a lot of people from all walks of life. Personally, our family was blessed twice as we saw God work through Bill and move mountains of injustice. May God keep you in his loving arms during this sad time, and may all of you find comfort in your memories of this strong, faithful, and upright man.

“ I worked with Bill for many years at the Georgia Department of Corrections. The kind of projects we worked on were the kind no one else wanted to deal with because it exposed us to political problems both within DOC and in the public arena. We did these projects anyway, He was never afraid to take these projects on, and he never compromised his personal standard of absolute honesty. He was not afraid to express his thoughts on any matter which was good or bad, and he never suffered a fool.

I want Kay and all of Bill's children to know that Bill loved them very much and spoke of them many times. You all can be very proud of him.
